VODKA

Cosmopolitan | €7.50

Absolut Citron, Cointreau, Fresh lime juice, Cranberry juice.

Did you know?:

The Cosmopolitan gained popularity in the 1990s. According to Brian Gougherty, the cosmo was further popularized among young women by its frequent mention on the television program Sex and the City, where Sarah Jessica Parker's character, Carrie Bradshaw, commonly ordered the drink when out with her girlfriends. The film adaptation made a reference to its popularity when Miranda asks why they stopped drinking them, Carrie replies "because everyone else started." It is not only in television that the Cosmo has influenced popular culture. Demeter Fragrance Library has created a cologne intended to smell like the cosmopolitan cocktail.

„CLASIC“

3parts Gordon's Gin, 1part Martini dry, Green olive, lemon zest, shaken.

Did you know?:

The traditional method of preparation is to pour gin and dry vermouth into a mixing glass with ice cubes, stir, strain into chilled cocktail glass, and garnish with a green olive or a twist of lemon peel. However Vodka producers wanted to increase their sales in US, so they paid big money to Hollywood movie makers and James Bond 007 started to drink vodka Martini: 'A dry Martini,' he said. 'One. In a deep champagne goblet.' 'Oui, Monsieur.' 'Just a moment. Three measures of Gordon's, one of vodka, half a measure of Kina Lillet. Shake it very well until it's ice-cold, then add a large slice of lemon-peel. Got it?'

Moscow Mule | €7.50 „CLASICO“

Smirnoff, Fresh lime juice, Simple syrup, Ginger ale.

Did you know?:

The story of the Moscow Mule begins in 1939 when a nearly broke Russian ex-pat, Rudolph Kunett, sold the Smirnoff brand to John Martin, head of G.F. Heublein & Bros. Eventually John Martin used the Moscow Mule to help promote vodka to bars across the US and this helped fuel the mainstream acceptance of vodka as the preferred white spirit, replacing gin. Smirnoff rushed to testify that its vodka was not, and never had been a member of the Communist Party. In support, Walter Winchell wrote in 1951, "The Moscow Mule is US made, so don't be political when you're thirsty."

TEQUILLA

Margarita | €7.50 „CLASICO“

Tequila, Cointreau, fresh lime juice.

Did you know?:

Many have claimed to know the origins of Margarita. However the truth still remains unclear today.

The most known of all the historical claims behind the Margarita cocktail originates in 1948. A fabulous hostess and Dallas socialite, Margarita Sames, hosted a pool side Christmas party at her vacation home in Acapulco, Mexico. The party game of choice for Margarita was to get behind the bar and see what concoctions she could develop and let her party guests test and rate the results. That evening she mixed tequila with cointreau and lime juice. The result was a success among her guests and quickly traveled through the elite groups in Texas and soon to Hollywood under the name of Margarita.

Raspberry Margarita | €7.95

Tequila, Cointreau, fresh lime juice, fresh raspberries.

OTHER SPIRITS

Caipirinha | €7.50 „CLASICO“

Cachaca, lime juice, cane sugar.

Did you know?:

There are many stories about the caipirinha's origin. The best known is one that begins around 1918, in the state of São Paulo. According to information, the caipirinha as we know it today would have been created from a popular recipe made with lemon, garlic and honey, indicated for patients of Spanish flu - and which, today, is still used to scare small colds. As it was quite common to put a little alcohol in any home remedy in order to expedite the therapeutic effect, rum was commonly used. "Until one day someone decided to remove the garlic and honey. Then added a few tablespoons sugar to reduce the acidity of lime. The ice came next, to ward off the heat."

RUM

Mojito | €8.50 „CLASIC“

Bacardi, Cane sugar, Fresh lime Juice, Fresh mint leaves, Soda water.

Did you know?:

The Mojito took root in Cuba at a time when most rum was scarcely potable fierce, funky and heavy with fusel oils and other noxiousness. How to fix this? Well, if you were a Cuban farmer with a bottle of cheap rum and a long night ahead, you would have used whatever diversions were at hand to make it more palatable a squeeze of lime, some sugar-cane juice, a handful of mint. Then it would go down just fine.

Strawberry Mojito | €8.95

Bacardi, Fresh strawberries, Cane sugar, Fresh lime Juice, Fresh Mint leaves, Soda water.

Diquiri | €7.50 „CLASIC“

Havana Club, Cane sugar, Fresh lime Juice.

Did you know?:

The simple blend of rum, fresh lime juice and sugar was reputedly invented around 1905 by an American mining engineer named Jennings Cox, who was working at an iron mine in the town of Daiquiri near Santiago on the southeast coast of Cuba. Legend has it that Cox came up with the idea when he ran out of gin while entertaining guests. But it's just as likely that this combo was already being drunk in Cuba before Cox arrived.

Strawberry Diquiri | €8.95

Bacardi, Fresh strawberries, Cane sugar, Fresh lime Juice. Shaken.

Piña Colada | €8.95

Bacardi, Coconut liqueur, coconut cream, Fresh pineapple juice

WHISKEY

Old Fassion | €7.50 „CLASIC“

Burbon, angostura bitter, sugar, orange peel.

Did you know?:

Old-fashioned cocktail is made by muddling sugar with bitters then adding whiskey or brandy, and a twist of citrus rind. It is traditionally served in a short. The first use of the name "Old Fashioned" for a Bourbon whiskey cocktail was said to have been, anachronistically, at the Pendennis Club, a gentlemen's club founded in 1881 in Louisville, Kentucky.
